Message from the Chief Editor.

I am extremely happy to announce about my association with International Journal of Management and Applied Science (IJMAS) as the Chief Editor. I wish all the success of the IJMAS Journal in coming days and we will try to maintain the high reputation and reach new high.

Brief Profile

Creative and Versatile Educator for the last 26 years. Being an Army wife, I have travelled across the length and breadth of this country and taught in 8 states in both CBSC and ICSE.

I am a free-lance writer and my articles have been published by leading newspapers on Education and Social issues. I have written five plays of which were well received by the audience during the Council inter school play competition at Dehra Dun from 2005 till 2009.

I wish to create a system of Education which promotes Creativity, Individuality and life skills. I am not in favor of my students following me, instead guiding star where, even a little light helps them to find their own path.

Achievement

Took a leap of faith by inducting specially abled children in a main stream school without any technical know how or where withal. The belief was born out of the fact that if we Educate a special child with normal children, their progress will be better vis a vis if he learns in a special school, where there is little inspiration to improve. The success in turn has only inspired me to work with my team and embrace special children year after year.
